

'90-93 FAQ

Q: Will the MC Machine gauge plate fit my '90-'93 Mustang?

A: The short answer is the MC Machine plate will physically bolt in.

The detailed answer is that some trim pieces will be need to be changed over to '87-'89 for the best installation or the '90-'93 trim piece will need minor cutting for optimum fitment. The '90-'93 cars have slightly different pieces to accomodate the air bag steering column. These pieces have a larger radius where they arch over the steering column and this larger radius partially interferes with the tachometer and speedometer.
